PINOT NERO

Grape Variety Pinot nero (red grape).

Description This variety is extremely widespread in many areas of the world; its origin goes back to the French region of Burgundy. This vine needs particular climatic conditions, and is very susceptible to many diseases. Its cultivation is suitable for calcareous soils.

Sensory Notes The most distinctive characteristic of this grape is the acidity, which should be preserved so as not to compromise the balance of the wine; by bringing the grape to a slow ripening in cool climate zones, this helps preserve the aromas. The color is deep ruby red. The nose has floral notes of violet and rose, and scent of red fruit. On the palate is an array of red fruit including cherry, raspberry and blackberry. The wine is low in tannins. Its acidity is balanced with the alcohol it renders, it is soft, flavorful and of good structure.

Pairings Roasts, poultry, game such as duck and venison, polenta and mature cheeses.
